KEYNOTE SPEAKER

ELIZABETH SLEDGE

As a board-certified pediatrician, I can attest to the challenges of medical school and residency, but the most difficult, rewarding, and important job I have is raising my twelve-year-old daughter and nine-year-old son. My journey took an unexpected turn with pregnancy complications before my son was born. After birth, we noticed motor delays, speech delays, and sensory difficulties, and he was diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder at two-and-a-half years of age. Since then, we have been in physical therapy, occupational therapy, feeding therapy, speech therapy, ABA therapy, social skills, and parent training. We have struggled through lack of sleep, worked through meltdowns and feeding difficulties, and navigated the special education system, including troubleshooting accommodations and school services. Every new part of the journey has brought its own challenges and has come with bumps, twists, and turns.

Although this is not the journey I expected, I would not trade it for any other. My “tour guide” has been amazing and has taught me so much. I am a better mother, a better physician, and a better advocate because of him. After residency, I joined the Texas Tech Pediatrics faculty and served as an assistant professor for seven years. During that time, I took care of many families of children with disabilities and developmental differences and strived to provide family-centered and supportive care. I also worked to educate medical students, residents, and other medical professionals about disabilities and special education services.

I consider my two beautiful children to be my greatest achievement and motherhood to be my greatest accomplishment. I rejoice with every step taken, every hill climbed, and every milestone achieved, and the lessons I have learned have equipped me to better serve others. In July 2023, I moved back home to Bryan-College Station to practice at Summit Pediatrics where I could continue to serve as a provider and advocate for my children and yours.

BREAKOUT SESSIONS

KEYNOTE

Navigating Medical Services and Advocating For Your Child's Needs: A Pediatrician and Parent's Perspective - Dr. Elizabeth Sledge, Summit Pediatrics

In this session, we will discuss the difficulties in accessing appropriate care for children with special needs and the importance of giving our children a voice. At the end of the session, we hope parents will feel equipped to advocate for their children and more confident in navigating the medical system.

BREAKOUT SESSION 1 (CHOOSE 1 TO ATTEND)

Partnering for Success: An Autism Panel Discussion for Parents (Birth - Elementary)

This panel discussion is designed to empower parents of young children with autism (birth through elementary) to become effective partners with their child's school. Our expert panel will provide practical strategies for navigating the educational system, advocating for your child's needs, and fostering a positive and productive learning experience.

Navigating SSI and SSDI Programs - Craig Davis, Program Manager Brazos Valley Center for Independent Living

This breakout session will provide a high-level overview of Social Security Supplemental Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI), two essential programs designed to assist individuals with disabilities and low-income individuals. Participants will gain an understanding of the eligibility requirements, application processes, and benefits of each program, as well as the differences between them.

Un Camino Hacia una Vida Más Independiente - Leticia LaSota, PATHS Program Director

En esta presentación hablaremos sobre los siguientes temas:

- Los beneficios de la educación después de la preparatoria (high school)
- Preparación de padres e hijos para aplicar y participar en estos programas
- Cómo el programa de acceso al entrenamiento en servicios humanos (PATHS) puede ayudar a desarrollar y mejorar hábitos para vivir una vida más independiente.
- Experiencias narradas por estudiantes del programa PATHS en la Universidad de Texas A&M

BREAKOUT SESSION 2 (CHOOSE 1 TO ATTEND)

Launching into Adulthood: An Autism Panel Discussion for Secondary Students and Beyond

This panel discussion is tailored to support students with autism (secondary school through young adulthood) and their families as they navigate the transition to greater independence. Our expert panel will address key topics related to life after high school, including post-secondary education, employment, independent living, and self-advocacy.

You Don't Know What you Don't Know - Melissa Benn, Benn Law Group

A legal overview for the special needs community...I will touch on ABLE accounts, estate planning, and guardianship and alternatives. The focus will be on guardianships.

A Path for Greater Independence -Leticia LaSota, PATHS Program Director

In this presentation, we will cover the following topics:

- The benefits of postsecondary education programs
- How can parents and students prepare to apply for and participate in these programs?
- How Postsecondary Access Training in Human Services (PATHS) enhances independent living skills and foster greater independence.
- Personal experiences shared by current students in the PATHS program

 FS	Raising Awareness of Developmental Language Disorder 4045 Crestmont Dr., College Station, TX 77845  Developmental Language Disorder (DLD) is the new term to replace Specific Language Impairment (SLI). Developmental Language Disorder is diagnosed when children fail to acquire their own language for no obvious reason. This results in children who have difficulty understanding what people say to them, and struggle to articulate their ideas and feelings. Recent research has shown that, on average, 2 children in every class of 30 will experience DLD severe enough to hinder academic progress.  In 2017, the first DLD awareness campaign was introduced with the theme DLD 1-2-3 highlighting (1) DLD is a problem with speaking and/or listening, (2) it is hidden but common, and (3) support can help to improve the quality of life of affected children and their families.
